Re: Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern:

It is our pleasure to submit this letter of recommendation for North & South Construction Services for their work on the new Our Lady of Angels church in Berwick, Maine. As the project's general contractor, Ledgewood oversaw North & South's work on framing, sheathing, siding and roofing. Challenges of this scope of work included framing and stabilization of the large Glu-lam beams while the building's diaphragm was still being built, restructuring of the shear wall to achieve ideal wind load forces, and creating a system to shape the Azek exterior trim boards to accommodate the church's gothic windows.

North & South were very knowledgeable on the site procedures and appropriate sequencing during construction. Their material handling and protection, daily clean up, and organization on site was of A+ quality. Their communication with our team and with the other trades on site was both professional and productive, and greatly appreciated. Safety was of utmost priority and was practiced daily with shop talks and daily tasks. The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) made one visit while North & South were working on framing and roof decking, and no violations were recorded.

North & South Construction were a pleasure to work with and we wish them the best in this submission. Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions at (207) 767-1866 or ppelletier@ledgewoodconstruction.com.

Sincerely,
